WEATHER OF CONCERN

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

- Afternoon and evening thunderstorms are possible over the Sierra Cascade range which will continue through Sunday.
- Brief periods of heavy rainfall is expected with these thunderstorms.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

- Showers and thunderstorms are likely across the mountains of Santa Barbara and Ventura Counties this afternoon and evening, with a chance of showers across the mountains and interior valleys of San Luis Obispo County, the Cuyama Valley, and the mountains of Los Angeles County excluding the Santa Monica Range.
  - Some thunderstorms could produce very heavy rain.
  - Since winds aloft will be quite light, showers and thunderstorms will be slow moving, and could linger in any one location for an extended period of time. This will lead to the threat of flash flooding, especially in the higher terrain and the back country of the mountains.

WEATHER KEY POINTS

06/01/19 - 06/07/19

Saturday-Sunday

- A chance of showers and thunderstorms will continue in the afternoons and evenings, mainly over the Sierra and adjacent foothills, as well as the mountains and some inland valleys across Southern Region.
  - Locally heavy rainfall is possible with any thunderstorm that passes over an area.
  - Since winds above the surface will be quite light across Southern Region, any showers and thunderstorms that form will be slow moving, and could linger in any one location for an extended period of time.
    - This will lead to a threat of flash flooding Saturday afternoon and evening across the mountains of Santa Barbara and Ventura Counties, the mountains and interior valleys of San Luis Obispo County, the Cuyama Valley, and the mountains of Los Angeles County (excluding the Santa Monica Range).
  - Hail and strong, gusty winds may also be possible with isolated storms across Inland Region

Monday-Friday

- Potential heat related impacts across the northern Sacramento Valley on Monday, spreading south to the San Joaquin Valley Tuesday and Wednesday
  - A slow cooling trend is generally expected across the state for Thursday-Friday
- Isolated showers and thunderstorms continue to be possible, primarily over the Sierra

Cal OES LAW ENFORCEMENT MISSIONS

Cal OES Law Missions

- 2019-LAW-2001, 05/31/19, 1800 hours: The debris removal teams working in the Malibu area of Los Angeles County reported to the JFO that motorists and bicyclists were bypassing road closures into the operations area. This was causing a hazard to themselves and debris removal personnel. CHP officers were requested to man the road closures during debris removal operations. CHP requested a mission resource tasking number for the purposes of overtime reimbursement. This mission will continue as needed by the debris removal teams, but will not continue to be reported on the LDO daily report. MISSION ONGOING
